REPORT

On October 19, 2023, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) at NIMIT organized a Faculty Development Program (FDP) focused on Training in AI Tools for Teachers. The session commenced with a prayer led by Ms. Anna Diana, an Assistant Professor in the PG Department of Computer Science at 2.15 p.m. Following the prayer, the resource person for the event, Mr. Aswin Joy, a Trainer from TCS in Kochi, was introduced, and the session officially began.

Mr. Aswin Joy provided valuable insights into the burgeoning impact of AI in various fields, including Design, Hospitality, Content Writing, Coding, and more. He conducted demonstrations of several AI tools, including Dalle, Discod, Gamma, and Slides.ai. The participants actively engaged and raised numerous questions, all of which were addressed effectively.

Post-session feedback was done by Ms. Bindhu G, Associate Professor, and Ms. Dhanya G.S, Assistant Professor, sharing their insights. A vote of thanks was delivered by Mr. Sebastian Poonolly, Assistant Professor, PG Department of Languages. The training program concluded at 4:15 p.m.

Resource Person Profile

Ashwin Joy is a technical trainer and software developer, who is passionate about technology. He helps students and professionals master coding by making the complex simpler.

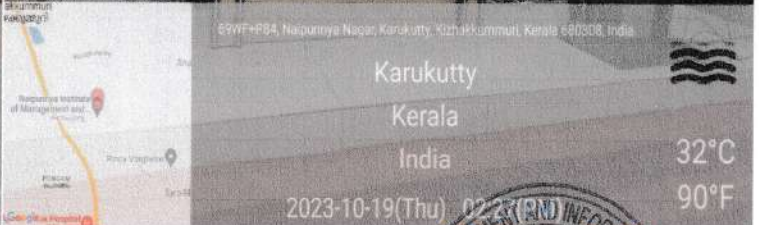

As a passionate computer programmer, he thrives on both crafting code and empowering others through knowledge-sharing. Currently serving as a technical trainer, he firmly believe that as technology shapes our future, our education system must rise to the challenge, equipping more individuals with refined technical skills. It's his mission to fortify the coding foundations of the next generation.

With a track record of both offline and online sessions impacting over 50,000 learners, Ashwin is deeply committed to upskilling young enthusiasts and paving the way for a tech-empowered future. His unique strength lies in distilling complex programming concepts into digestible content.

He is also the founder of Pythonista Planet, where he creates coding tutorials to help students who are learning programming.
